Overview

Nicole Benjamin is an accomplished trial and appellate lawyer who represents public and private companies in complex disputes and high-stakes litigation across the country.

Known for her unparalleled work ethic, responsiveness, organization, and relentless desire to win, Nicole consistently delivers results.

Not to be underestimated by her collegiality and professionalism, Nicole is a powerhouse in the courtroom. Her unyielding determination, incisive arguments, and unparalleled preparation have made her a go-to attorney for bet-the-company litigation. Nationally recognized for her defense work, in 2025 Nicole was named in Lawdragon's 500 Leading Litigators in America.

Also an award-winning appellate lawyer, Nicole was named Best Lawyers' 2023 Lawyer of the Year in the area of Appellate Practice and has been continually recognized for her appellate advocacy, including her success before the First and Third Circuits and the Rhode Island Supreme Court.

At AP&S, Nicole serves on the firm's executive committee where her focus is on the firm's future and leveraging innovative technology to deliver high-quality, cost-effective legal solutions.

A leader in the bar, Nicole recently served as President of the Rhode Island Bar Association. During her tenure, Nicole launched a groundbreaking Leadership Academy to cultivate the next generation of bar leaders. Nicole also serves as Vice Chair of the Board of Directors of Roger Williams University School of Law, Rhode Island's only law school.

Nicole's commitment to the legal profession extends beyond her work in New England. Nicole is a member of the invitation-only Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel and has been appointed Co-Chair of its 2025 Corporate Counsel Symposium. Nicole also serves on the Executive Council of the National Conference of Bar Presidents and is a member of the American Bar Association and a fellow of the American Bar Foundation.

Nicole also serves as Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Roger Williams University in her hometown of Bristol, Rhode Island, and she is the past board chair of Leadership Rhode Island.

Experience

Trial Court Matters

- Nicole and her colleagues secured a decisive victory for a Fortune 500 industrial conglomerate and its aerospace business in a high-profile federal court lawsuit alleging wrongful use of civil proceedings. After a rigorous five-day trial, the jury returned a complete defense verdict, bringing closure to a complex multi-year dispute that spanned both the district court and two circuit court appeals.
- In a case of first impression, Nicole and her colleagues led the defense of the State of Rhode Island against a constitutional challenge the tolling of tractor-trailer trucks on interstate highways. Nicole successfully petitioned the First Circuit for a rare writ of advisory mandamus and later represented the State in a three-week bench trial. After four years of litigation, including three First Circuit appeals, the First Circuit determined that truck-only tolls are constitutional, permitted the tolling program to resume, and paved the way for crucial revenue for Rhode Island's infrastructure.
- Since 2019, Nicole has played a pivotal role in the historic state intervention in the City of Providence's failing public school system. Nicole represented the Rhode Island Department of Education and its Commissioner of Education in an ensuing complex, multi-year battle over the City's obligation to fund the school system, which resulted in a favorable decision confirming the commissioner's constitutional power to withhold state aid from the City to satisfy the City's funding obligation. Her efforts resulted in settlements exceeding $30 million, securing crucial resources for Providence's students.
- On the eve of trial of a high-stakes federal court trade secrets case, Nicole and other members of AP&S's litigation team secured a resolution of all claims on behalf of their client, the world's largest toy manufacturer.
- Following the landmark United States Supreme Court's decision in Murphy v. NCAA, 138 S. Ct. 1461 (U.S. 2018), which paved the way for legalized sports betting, Nicole and her colleagues advised the Rhode Island Lottery. Under their guidance, Rhode Island became the first New England state to implement sports wagering and one of first in the country to implement online sports wagering. Nicole and her colleagues successfully defended the Rhode Island Lottery in subsequent Superior Court litigation challenging the constitutionality of both forms of wagering and before the Rhode Island Supreme Court.
- For six years Nicole, along with the antitrust litigation team of a "Global Elite"-ranked international law firm, represented a leading specialty pharmaceutical company in a multi-district litigation antitrust case from its commencement through jury empanelment and its eventual resolution on the eve of trial.
- Nicole and her colleagues successfully defended a United States defense contractor in litigation brought by a Saudi Arabian company that claimed a right to commissions on the sale of military weapons to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and obtained affirmance of that judgment on appeal. Arabian Support & Servs. Co. v. Textron Sys. Corp., 368 F. Supp. 3d 211 (D. Mass. 2019), aff'd 943 F.3d 42 (1st Cir. 2019).
- Nicole and her colleagues at AP&S have teamed up with a litigation group at one of the largest global law firms to defend a multinational oil and gas company in the first climate change lawsuit brought by a state alleging that fossil fuel manufacturers have created a public nuisance.
- Nicole is defending an American manufacturer of aircraft engines for general aviation aircraft in multi-jurisdictional product liability and wrongful death actions.
- Nicole has represented manufacturers of pelvic and hernia mesh in product liability cases throughout New England.
- From 2010 to 2023, Nicole and her colleagues represented the Governor, the General Treasurer and the Employees' Retirement System of the State of Rhode Island in multiple cases and a class action challenging the constitutionality of pension changes made by the Rhode Island legislature in 2009, 2010 and 2011. Six of ten cases resulted in a settlement, which retained approximately 92 percent of the pension savings the state obtained through the challenged legislation. The settlement was approved after a three-day fairness hearing and in 2018, the Rhode Island Supreme Court affirmed the Superior Court's approval of the settlement. Clifford v. Raimondo, 184 A.3d 673 (R.I. 2018). Three other cases were dismissed and, in the tenth case, Nicole and her colleagues secured summary judgment on behalf of their client.

Appellate Matters

- In a case concerning an attorney's ethical duty of loyalty, Nicole obtained reversal of a district judge's grant of summary judgment on the basis that the district court had improperly conflated the fact of damage with damages when ruling on a claim for breach of fiduciary duty. Avco Corp. v. Turner, No. 21-2750, 2022 U.S. App. LEXIS 20256 (3rd Cir. 2022).
- After obtaining confirmation of a foreign arbitral tribunal award in favor of the University of Notre Dame (USA) in England in a contractual dispute relating to construction defects, Nicole successfully represented in the university before the First Circuit, which affirmed the district court's confirmation of the arbitral tribunal's assessment of damages. of Notre Dame (USA) in England v. TJAC Waterloo, LLC, 49 F.4th 13 (1st Cir. 2022).
- Nicole successfully represented Rhode Island's Governor and Speaker of the House of Representatives on a petition for writ of advisory mandamus to the United Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, obtaining reversal of the district court's ruling on the application of the legislative privilege to subpoenaed documents and testimony in a dormant Commerce Clause challenge to the state's tolling of tractor-trailer trucks. Trucking Ass'ns v. Alviti, 14 F.4th 76 (1st Cir. 2021).
- On behalf of the Governor, the General Treasurer and the Employees' Retirement System of the State of Rhode Island, Nicole successfully briefed and argued in the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, obtaining affirmance of the district court's dismissal of constitutional challenges brought by a municipality's public safety employees to significant pension reform legislation enacted by the Rhode Island General Assembly in 2011. Cranston Firefighters, IAFF Local 1363 v. Raimondo, 880 F.3d 44 (1st Cir. 2018).
- Nicole successfully briefed and argued an issue of first impression in the Rhode Island Supreme Court, resulting in the recognition of a statutory right for trustees to recover their attorneys' fees when a trust beneficiary refuses, without any basis, to release the trustee of his or her fiduciary duties. In re Bagdis Living Trust Agreement, 136 A.3d 1122 (R.I. 2016).
- On behalf of the Rhode Island Bar Association as amicus curiae, Nicole briefed and argued issues of first impression related to the unauthorized practice of law before the Rhode Island Supreme Court, resulting in a decision that drafting deeds and examination of title for marketability constitutes the practice of law.
